General hospital spoilers dante back

ABC could friendship turn into something more for Sam and Dante? As we close out 2020, it's not just our soap opera volatile opera in the real world looking to put this year behind us. Many of our favorite characters in the real world are likely looking fresh starting in 2021, including Sam and Dante, who have both had a hard time recently on General Hospital. Spoiler warning! We're about to dive into some future taker and speculate what's ahead for these two. Could the ABC soap could plan on fearing them as more than friends? When the ABC soap resumed new episodes at the end of the summer, viewers were thrilled by Dante's return. After spending two years at a WSB hospital, Dante was deemed well enough to return to Port Charles with a new mission to bring down Peter and Anna, given to him unknownly by Dr Obrecht. While everyone was happy to see Dante back, Lulu's happiness was mixed with confusion as she moved on with Professor Dustin. Tragically, Dustin died in the bombing at the Floating Rib before the holidays. Lulu was just about confessing to Dental that he always felt for him when he fell unconscious and had to be sent to a long-term care facility after his sulfurous brain fell into a coma. As Dante tries to move on, and carries out his mission, some are beginning to question how well he's actually doing, including Anna and Valentin. Seeking Anna to continue pressing Dante on her time in the hospital. It's not the idea Dante is targeting him and his son. The same explosion that brought devastation to Dante's life also hit Sam Di, especially when he learned that his own father Julian planted the bomb on the syrup command to get out of Jason. The bomb also put their son Danny in the danger line, as he was with Jason in the Rib before leaving and narrowly missed as being caught up in the blast. It was another purely reminder of the loop of the dangers of Jason's work and how it affected families. Sam had agonize about what to do and eventually told Jason to come home when he left to chase behind Julian with Sonny. After Julian was back dead, Jason arrived at Sam, and asked him to stick around for Christmas morning for the sake of the child. Next week look for Jason and Sam to spend some time again together. While fans of the couple are hoping that they might find their way back together, we don't think the solution will be that simple, especially after Jason closes out 2020 nearly killing Cyrus. 2021 is looking like things will be more dangerous than ever, especially with Sonny still missing and Carly flowing up and flexing his own pain in regards to dealing with Cyrus. And of course, Jason will be by his side making sure he doesn't get his head dead. The first week of the new year also had Peter lay down from Sam. We are not sure what he has done to lead his anger towards him, but Peter knows Sam was likely to work with Jason and Spinelli to try to discover and expose all the things he understands. and they tried to hide, including him down the drew plane, which happened to exist Sam, Jason's brother, and Ekout's father. Peter's wrath toward Dental Interest, while keeping a close eye on Peter for each of his missions. Friday, January 8, while Jason is in meeting with Brando, likely on something dangerous involving Cyrus, Sam is busy bond with Dante. Now it's possible that Dante and Sam are comparing notes on sons Faison and Aleks, fans are on the edge of the throne waiting Peter to descend into flames. Dante and Sam could team up to make that happen, but could it be more out of that scenario? Both Sam and Dante are single and injured and can turn to each other for comforts. Of course, given their history, and interesting families, nothing more than friendship might feel a little left. After all, Sam was once involved in Dental's son, before paired up with reinforced Jason Sonny. Then there's Carly, who is family and close to both Dante and Jason, though it's no secret she's biggest fan Jason Tyle. We can't imagine Sam condoning him moving on with anyone but Jason, left alone with his step-son! Plus: Pictures of general hospital's general hospital star used without Sam's own family permission might make a pair of hard dental as well. Her mother Alexis shares a long time with kids with Sonny, who linked sister Sam La Kristina to Dante. Then there's the whole mess of Alexis suffering sleep with Dante Olivia's mother's husband, who is another of Alexis's ex! Everyone in Port Charles is no more than six degrees apart from one another, and Sonny seems to be Port Charles' equivalent to Kevin Bacon. And while alien relationships have occurred on this soap, we're not sure this one would fly with the viewers, especially Jason's and Sam's fans. On the other hand, depending on how long Sonny is off the canvas, it could lead to something more happening between Carly and Jason, especially after they both expressed with each other they couldn't stand thinking of losing each other with sonny's unknown condition. More: General Hospital alum attacker Tell us in comments what you think will happen, or you'd like to see from Dante and Sam getting closer. Are they better off as friends and family, and working together to take down Peter ... or do they both have a happiness, even if they get it together? Or you hold out for Lulu's return, and perhaps expect the outcome of the dental mission in the return of a not so drew, reigned a triangle between Sam, Jason, and his brother. Make sure you pluck up on everything that's happening with GH right now. Come back here often to ruin General Hospital, news, and updates. December 9, 2020 Craig Sjodin / ABC New General Hospital for the episodes On Thursday, Dec. 10 indicates that viewers will see a fair amount of both Anna and Finn. The wedding days are supposedly just around the corner, but there seems to be a few coist finishes to deal with first. According to SheKnows Saaps, Dante will spend some time with Anna during the next show. Both will aim to catch up with each other, but the General Hospital dive money cap for 10 December suggesting that there might be some tough questions along the way. At this point, Dante believes he was sent back to Port Charles on a mission to the WSB. He worked and figured out the truth about Peter, and he is flying solo at that point. Anna obviously has no idea that Dante is working to expose Peter. In fact, he doesn't know much at all about the experiences that Dante had while he was in Geneva. The General Hospital preview reveals that he will ask about his experience there, but he can't get many answers. Dante might feel he can open up to Anna to a measure, given his WSB ties. However, he surely won't reveal anything about Peter or that he's supposedly on a mission. Will he manage to get into that conversation without his start of suspicion of anything? Todd Wawrychuk/ ABC Though Anna suspected that investigating Peter Dental, he would not be able to assess the full situation. Unfortunately, what Dante doesn't realize is that he's not the WSB who gave him that mission. Somehow, Liesl managed to make this happen and was determined to destroy Peter. As Dante and Anna Chat, State Hospital headquarters blew up to indicate that Maxie will have little time to talk to Finn. She approached Anna early this week about the possibility of making a series of doubles, and she looks like she's ready to get that plan completely in place. Anna wasn't keen on the idea, but she did not say no. Now it seems that Maxie may assume that she can move forward on pursuing this, just have Finn misses the idea. General Hospital's sneak peek newspaper for Thursday reveals that Maxie will sound hurt as she asks Finn if he says no. That certainly seems likely to be about the welding situation. General Hospital noted that Finn will find himself caught in a freak situation of some sort. She seems probable that it's this conversation with Maxie that this gate is over. Obrecht will pop up during Thursday's episodes, and General Spoiled Hospital seems to suggest that it will be back to the thickness of things for at least some episodes. Witnesses are worried to see Peter deal with once and for all, and it sounds as if this time might ultimately be on the horizon. Dental later, Franco related memories of what Peter said, and Obrecht was determined to exact revenge. How soon will karma finally catch up to Peter? General Hospital fans can't wait to find out. get off.
